NOTES AND COMMENT.

The United States senate is investigating the payment of $100,000 to a former premier of New Brunswick, and Judge Landis is investigating a seven-year-old baseball scandal. This sort of thing does not become outlawed as quickly as promissory notes.

Premier Brownlee is in the east in connection with the proposed Spray Lakes power development scheme. This part of the country is highly interested in this project, as upon it depends a supply of sufficient electrical energy to meet the demands of the towns along this line. It is to be hoped some real conclusion is reached at the present discussion. Individuals do not feel like installing expensive individual plants if hydro-electric power will be available in the near future.

All over the country the prospects of the new year are being discussed and invariably the conclusion is reached that it will be one of the best in the country's history. Immigration is expected to exceed anything experienced for many years past, and present indications are that business of every description will be exceptionally good. At any rate there is every reason to be very optimistic at the present time.

China is providing front page news for the newspapers again, having interfered with British interests and individuals at Hankow. So long as the Chinese continued to fight among themselves they did not receive much attention but when they start on the foreign devil the world sits up and takes notice.

The lease of a terminal elevator at Vancouver, offered the wheat pool by the Vancouver harbor board, is no longer available as the old board has resigned and did not consider they were in a position to make their offer good under the conditions. Probably a new harbor board will repeat the offer.

It is to be hoped that there will be a general turnout to the board of trade meeting, notice of which is given elsewhere in this issue. Several farmers have signified their intention of being on hand, and there is enough suggestions of possible improvements to make the meeting unusually interesting. We are far enough away from the holidays now to permit attention being given to other things.

The search for oil in the west has proceeded in 1926. Two of the fields in Alberta have witnessed developments which are full of promise. The bringing in of three more huge wet gas wells in the Turner Valley field in Alberta have proved that the original Royalty "basser" was not an individual freak. In the lower grade Wainwright field further production has taken place with developments extending to the Ribstone field on the Saskatchewan boundary. An attempt in Manitoba near Grandview is believed to hold out hopes of discovery of valuable oil development—Wainwright Free Press.

There is considerable agitation for an Alberta representative on the Van-cover harbor board. Whether such a representative would do Alberta much good may be a matter of question. It is a certainty, however, in case of the appointment that some individual will get a good paying job.

It did not seem to be in the public interest to report the fact that there was a case of scarlet fever in town recently. The type was very mild, and as far as is known there were but two cases. Under the circumstances it did not seem necessary to publish anything that would scare people away.

Alberta's two million dollar profit out of the Liquor Control Act administration is a whole lot better in the treasury of the province than in the pockets of the bootleggers. If profit is to be made out of the sale of liquor the government is the party that should make it—Lethbridge Herald.

No time should be lost in circulating a petition in connection with the proposed permanent improvement of the main street. The entire season is not too long to go through the necessary routine and have the work done this year.

Mrs. J. N. Beaubier At Upland, Cal.

Makes Principal Address At Opening of New Club House by Upland Club, of Which She was First President in 1903.

Mrs. J. N. Beaubier arrived in California just in time to take part in the opening of a new club house by the Upland Women's Club, of which she was the first president in 1903. The following, copied from the Upland, Cal. News, gives an outline of her address:

Before an audience that taxed the capacity of the large auditorium, the formal dedication ceremonies of the Upland Women's club house took place on Tuesday afternoon. The auditorium, which has a seating capacity of four hundred, was banked with ferns and choice flowers, and among the honor guests, seated on the stage were: Mrs. J. N. Beaubier, founder of the Upland club; Mrs. Goodell, state federation vice-president at large; Mrs. H. E. DeNye, newly elected president of the Southern district, California federation of Women's clubs; Mrs. F. H. Pritchard, county president.

All gave greetings and all congratulated the members of the Upland organization in the achievement of their dream of many years, their beautiful new club house. Mrs. L. D. Peuple, president, presided and in her gracious manner introduced in turn the speakers. Mrs. J. N. Beaubier, who came all the way from her home in Champion, Alberta, for this opening occasion, was the principal speaker of the afternoon, and her presence on the stage was the occasion for an ovation from her many friends in the audience that for the moment quite overwhelmed her. Recalling first the many little intimate occurrences that went to make up the founding of the Upland club twenty-three years ago, Mrs. Beaubier took her audience step by step along the road the club travelled up to ten years ago, when she left Upland for the far north, where, as she said, "although I was many miles away from you, my spirit was here, and when the word came to me that the Upland Women's club had built a fine home and that this day was to see its dedication, I felt that I just simply must be here to assist with the ceremony, for ceremony it truly is. There is no more fitting word for the accomplishment of a vision or dream of so many years than "ceremony."

Coming to the theme of her well delivered address, Mrs. Beaubier stated the point of the development of the individual through active club life. A life as she said that is such a factor in civic, state, national and international affairs.

Off to a Good Start for the New Year

The very best thanks of The Chronicle are due the large number of patrons who remembered us during 1926.

Naturally, it is cheering to be recalled, and more especially so when cash accompanies the recollection.

The farmers of the Champion District would scarcely miss $1.50 a year. During the bad years no effort was made to collect even this amount and arrears piled up. Now you are asked to start the year right by cleaning these arrears up.

The paper will always reflect the quality of your support. Don't starve it to death unintentionally.

THE CHRONICLE, - Champion.

They propose to forcibly seize chronic alcoholics whenever they are found intoxicated and to subject them to a drastic sobriety treatment in hospitals.

Held Unique Party

British Chancellor of Exchequer Host to His Charwomen
Winston Churchill, as a big old Harrow, always was getting into the news. Even today the Chancellor of the Exchequer is found of anything out of the ordinary.

Mr. Churchill is one of the youngest of British statesmen, having just celebrated his fifty-second birthday. But his colleagues contend that he will still enjoy a job if he lives to be a hundred.

Mr. Churchill's "little escapade" relates to a lot of elderly women whom he met in the hallway leading to his office. All carried little bags. Wondering what delegation was calling upon him so early, Mr. Churchill's inquiry elicited the fact that the crowd was made up of charwomen.

They did not want to see the Chancellor of the Exchequer at all, but all were waiting for their pay. Mr. Churchill decided to get better acquainted with them. As the Christmas spirit was in the air, the first gift worth that all these "nice old ladies" were to come into the Chancellor's office at noon the next day. And they did.

Mrs. Churchill was there, too, to assist the husband in looking after the guests of one of the strangest month-time affairs Great Britain has experienced.

War On Communism

British Labor Leaders Will Launch Campaign Immediately
The London Daily Express says the most influential of Great Britain's moderate labor leaders have decided to declare open war on the Communists in the trade unions.

The reported decision is due to the extremist minority starting a campaign to undermine the official leaders of the union, the paper adds. The campaign against the Communists, it is understood, will be launched immediately after a conference of trade union executives, to be held this month.

The membership of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool has reached a total of 80,240 representing 10,642,432 acres of wheat sown up. The membership of the Canadian Grain Pool has at a recent counting 37,906, covering the following areas: 1,530,266; 373,427; 137,239; and 207,115,559.

History In Sun Spots

Great Phases Occur During Phenomena Says Russian Scientist

Another great war within two years, caused by the culmination of a period of sun spot activity, is among the possibilities, according to Prof. A. T. Tikhov of the University of Moscow.

His paper, sent from Russia, was read before the meteorological section of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

The Russian declared that all great wars have been followed by periods of intense sun spot activity.

Some of the great events which the writer declared had occurred during periods of intense sun spot activity were the fall of the Mughal empire in India and the discovery of America in 1492; the French revolution in 1789; the Russian revolution in 1917; and a long series of insurrections from 1286 down to 1916 of all the crusades, the great migrations, the decline of the great empires of the world.

St. Bartholomew's massacre, the downfall of Byzantium, the French revolution, the rise of Napoleon, the fall of 1806, of Cromwell, the fall of Washington, the great battles of the world, the epidemic of cholera in Yverdon in 1876, when the sun spots could be seen with the naked eye, were also included as the events which occurred during periods of intense sun spot activity.

In 1927 and 1928, said the writer, will occur a period of intense sun spot activity at its maximum, and when this maximum will coincide with the maxima of two other periods of intense sun spot activity, there will be a great human activity of the highest historical importance, which may change the political chart of the world.

Queer Diet Proved Fatal

Colonel of Royal Irish Regiment Starved on Raw Vegetables and Biscuits

As the result of reading books on dieting, Lieut. Col. Pells, formerly of the Royal Irish Regiment, and residing at Glenties, Co. Londonderry, starved himself to death.

At the inquest conducted at Crossmaglen by the Hastings coroner, Mrs. Cramp, inquired, the coroner, who was at that breakfast, Col. Pells had, as a rule, one orange and two grapes. His daily meal consisted of one potato, half a lettuce or two of three raw cabbage leaves, one teaspoonful of raw scraped carrots, one teaspoonful of raw scraped beetroots, and the day there was a little butter. He refused all other food.

A doctor stated that deceased refused to take an all-round diet which was prescribed. Death was due to heart failure following starvation. The coroner, who reported by the coroner, in accordance with medical evidence, observed that the starvation was self-inflicted in the wrong opinion that it was the right thing to do. It was a peculiar and distorted view.

Says Men Make Best Cooks

More Interested in Things to Eat Than Interested in British Novelists

Men are more interested in food and therefore make the best cooks, do more waiting for their pay, Mr. Churchill declared to get better acquainted with them. As the Christmas spirit was in the air, the first gift worth that all these "nice old ladies" were to come into the Chancellor's office at noon the next day. And they did.

Mrs. Churchill was there, too, to assist the husband in looking after the guests of one of the strangest month-time affairs Great Britain has experienced.

Labor Fights Communism

American Labor Leader Would Rid Rank of Destructive Elements
Bridges' ranks of all ultra-radical destructive and revolutionary elements is the first task to which American organized labor has set itself for the new year.

In a statement, in which he views with satisfaction the achievements of labor in the past year and expresses optimism for 1927, Matthews, vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, declares that the fight against Communist elements in the labor ranks will continue.

"We have fought the fight of Democracy against Communism," he said, "and we have won it. We have won it because we have turned upon it all the energy in our hands, fighting it as the would-be destroyer of our freedom and our homes. We have won it because we have turned upon it all the energy in our hands, fighting it as the would-be destroyer of our freedom and our homes."

Matthews declared that at no time before has the consuming power of the year been as high as it was in America in the past year.

"We are, in the mass, comparatively well off," he said, "not because we make many things, but because our needs are met. We have turned upon it all the energy in our hands, fighting it as the would-be destroyer of our freedom and our homes. We have won it because we have turned upon it all the energy in our hands, fighting it as the would-be destroyer of our freedom and our homes."

New Features of the British Industries Fair 1927

It is a striking fact that the British Industries Fair, which is to be held in London and Birmingham from May 21st to March 4th, next, will, despite recent industrial trouble and depression in Great Britain, greatly exceed in size and importance the Fair of last spring. No doubt the conclusion that it would be necessary when the coal stoppage ended to make up for lost time by establishing new trade contacts carried some weight.

It is also to be remembered that exhibitors at the last Fair were highly satisfied with the business results achieved, and have realized that the number of buyers from abroad visiting for the first time by establishing new trade contacts carried some weight.

Chandler Retains Mt. Wilson Record

Company Becomes Permanent
Holder of Trophy Cup for Record Time of 24:17.01 on
Stiff Nine and One-half Mile
Mountain Climb.

Chandler is the permanent holder of the Trophy Cup won for its record performance on the stiff, winding grades of towering Mt. Wilson, officials at the Chandler-Cleveland Motors Corporation factories were notified recently.

This noted trophy donated by the Los Angeles Express, is one of the most beautiful and valuable prizes ever placed in competition. It has been open for stock car competition for several years, but no car has yet equaled Chandler's time of 24 minutes 17.01 seconds for the difficult 9 1/2 mile climb.

"The irreversible progress as expressed in rapidly increasing motor traffic has necessitated the abandonment of the annual contests to lower the stock car speed record on Mr. Wilson," the notification reads.

Therefore, the Chandler record of 24 minutes 17.01 seconds stands as the permanent speed mark for the Mt. Wilson road, and we have formally tendered your Los Angeles distinction, The W. P. Herbert Co., permanent possession of the Challenge Trophy.

"In so doing," the notification continues, "we cannot resist again congratulating the Chandler-Cleveland Motors Corp. on manufacturing an automobile which not only established the fastest time ever made on this nine and one-half mile winding mountain road that rises to an elevation of 5,880 feet, but we also again express our sincere appreciation of the clean, competitive sportsmanship displayed by your Company, your local distributors and Ralph Mulford who drove the car."

"It is not the first time that a record established by Chandler has successfully withstood all competition, for only a few months ago, at the running of the Annual National AAA Hill Climb on Pikes Peak, the winning car was unable to equal Chandler's phenomenal record of 17 minutes, 48.25 seconds on this noted peak, the world's highest motor mountain climb."
